

SWEAR IN 500 SPECIAL POLICEMEN AT FLINT

20-Year Old Boy Held As Kidnap And Killer Of Doctor In Missouri

Willow Springs, Mo., Feb. 3.—(AP)—Spurred by science and supported by "G-men," police tonight pinned the brutal kidnaping and killing of a 67-year-old country doctor on a farm youth turned hoodlum.

Robert Kenyon, 20, broke down before dawn and led officers to the hidden, shot-torn body of Dr. J. C. B. Davis, foremost citizen of this south central Missouri community. The physician, who "brought half of the town into the world," had been lured into the country south of here last week on a false call for medical aid.

Kenyon was spirited away from this town of 1,500 by officers bound for closely guarded jail cell in Kansas City. Authorities determined to prosecute him on a first degree murder charge carrying the death penalty.

Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, marked the case solved and disclosed in Washington that perhaps the most damaging evidence against Kenyon was a tablet of writing paper which had identifications, brought out by scientifically trained investigators and shown to duplicate words in two ransom notes sent to Dr. Davis' family. Hoover said the agents were convinced Kenyon had no accomplices.

"Why, why must he have been murdered?" asked a sister of Dr. Davis. "He was the kindest of men. He would go on any call that came to him, day or night, and he never considered whether he would be paid for it."

There still were gaps in the police story, particularly as to why Dr. Davis' kidnaping killed him—apparently a few hours after he was kidnapped a week ago yesterday. But the official story, broadly, was one of bungling by an amateur criminal.

Dr. Davis was the fourth kidnap victim to be slain in recent years by his abductor. Only last month Charles Mattison, 10 son of a Tacoma, Wash., physician, was found beaten to death.

In both the Mattison and Davis cases unsuccessful attempts were made to pay demanded ransoms.

On the afternoon of January 26 Dr. Davis left his office telling his secretary he was going on an emergency case to the home of a "Mr. James" south of here.

Concern did not develop until the following day, Wednesday, when Dr. Davis' car was not returned and the "Mr. James" home was not found.

A ransom note postmarked West Plains, Mo., 22 miles distant, was received by Dr. Davis' family two days after his disappearance. It was addressed "Dear Friend" and was signed "The Kidnapers."

It called for a packet of $5,000 in currency divided in four $1,000 bills, nine $100 bills and five $20 bills and threatened death to the doctor if the family called police. It was written in Dr. Davis' handwriting.

A second ransom note was received by Mrs. Davis yesterday. It was written by someone other than Dr. Davis and demanded that the ransom be paid at 9 p. m. tomorrow. It was signed "The Kidnapers."

Kenyon was seized for questioning yesterday morning. Slim, saw-toothed, brown-haired and weighing about 120 pounds he fitted the general description of the stranger last seen with Dr. Davis. Kenyon is five feet eight inches tall.

Hours upon hours of questioning began. Kenyon was confronted last night with the writing tablet clue. Later he was quoted as offering to lead investigators to a woman and two men who held the doctor.

Finally Kenyon took them to the thicket, about 14 miles away and off a highway, where the body lay. Dr. Davis apparently had been forced to alight from a car, climb a barbed wire fence and walk to a knoll between two ponds. Then he was shot—first in the heart. After the fatal wound he was shot twice in the chest and twice in the head from behind.

There were no signs of a struggle. The doctor's spectacles still were in place and clutched in his left hand was a checkbook, possibly opened in an effort to buy his release. Cartridges found nearby were preserved for comparison with a gun in the possession of Kenyon.

SENTENCE CLERK AFTER EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE
Carlinville, Ill., Feb. 3.—(P)—Peter J. Carney, former Macoupin county clerk, was sentenced today by Circuit Judge Victor Hemphill to indeterminate terms of 1 to 10 years in prison on six charges of embezzlement while in office.

Caveny, father of eight children, pleaded guilty to one of the charges Monday and entered similar pleas to the five additional charges today. Judge Hemphill denied a request for probation in passing sentence. The terms will be served concurrently at the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Joliet.

The clerk resigned from office early in January after a special committee of the county board of supervisors reported an audit had shown a shortage of $18,500 in his accounts. He was indicted by the county grand jury shortly afterwards.

PRESIDENT ASKS FIVE BILLIONS TO PREVENT FLOODS

Receive Huge Public Works Program To Curb Rivers

Legislators Fail to Comment on Proposition

Washington, Feb. 3.—(P)—A Congress receptive to flood control plans received from President Roosevelt today a $5,011,000,000 public works program to curb rampaging rivers and prime the economic pump in future depressions.

Though legislators did not comment on the program immediately, leaders indicated it was assured of close attention, especially in view of present floods on the Ohio and Mississippi.

Those two rivers would be included in the plan, water control, which would be combined with a six-year program of public works. The plan was drafted by the Roosevelt national resources committee.

The president heard today from his flood advisers that conditions in the Cairo, Ill., area and the lower Mississippi were improved, although the danger period was not past. Chairman Cary T. Grayson also reported a continued flow of Red Cross contributions, bringing the total to $12,651,900. Donations were pouring in at the rate of more than a million dollars a day.

Declaring public works had been undertaken "somewhat hurriedly" during the depression emergency, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Now is the time to develop a long range plan and policy of construction—to provide the best use of our resources and to prepare in advance against any other emergency."

Specific projects, numbering nearly 10,000 in all parts of the country, were suggested in the report, including an $85,000,000 expenditure in the Ohio valley.

The recommendation called for spending $1,053,568,650 the first year and $753,733,438 the sixth year. Distribution would be on the basis of 25 per cent for streets and highways; 24 per cent for irrigation, drainage and flood control; 17 per cent for buildings and equipment; and the remainder for soil conservation, forest conservation and game protection, grade crossing elimination, water navigation and aviation aids, recreation projects, low cost housing and other public undertakings.

A public works program during time of depression, the resources committee said, should be financed from public borrowing, but during normal times from current revenues so far as possible.

The committee said that before the cost of public works is apportioned there should be a federal study of state and local finances, which were called "chaotic."

Lindbergh Demands Police Escort On a Drive Around Rome

Appeals to Mussolini For Privacy in Brief Stop On Air Hop

Rome, Feb. 3.—(P)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh spent most of this afternoon seeing Rome from the interior of a limousine which was followed by a police escort to insure the privacy the famous flying couple desire.

The Lindberghs interrupted an air tour of which the destination, although unannounced, was believed to be Cairo, to devote two or three days to sightseeing in the Eternal City, which the Colonel had not visited before.

The police detail was assigned to them after the Colonel appealed to Premier Mussolini for help in avoiding a repetition of an over-enthusiastic welcome on their arrival at Rome airport yesterday from Pisa. They left Lympe, England, Monday.

Arrangements for a meeting between Lindbergh and Il Duce were being made, authoritative sources said.

The Lindberghs are staying at the home of Chester H. Aldrich, dean of the American Academy in Rome. Their baggage was moved this morning from a hotel to the Aldrich residence on Janiculum Hill, once the headquarters of the Patriot Garibaldi in his fight to unify Italy.

Lindbergh called today at the American embassy and on Giuseppe Valle, undersecretary for air.

General Italo Balbo governor of Libya, telegraphed from Tripoli, ordering a huge bouquet for Mrs. Lindbergh. Balbo led a trans-Atlantic flight of 24 planes, from Rome to Chicago, in 1933.

John Lewis' 1937 Battles Promise To Be Continued

Washington, Feb. 3.—(P)—A reminder that John L. Lewis' 1937 battles are only beginning appeared today in a call for a meeting of the United Mine Workers' Policy Committee to draft demands for a 30-hour week.

Lewis has described the General Motors strike as "only a skirmish on the left front" in his drive to obtain union wage and hour contracts covering workers in all the country's big mass production industries.

Win or lose in General Motors, Lewis' next big fight will be with the soft coal industry in behalf of its own miners, his associates say. Before that battle is ended, he may tackle steel. Drives for agreements with other automobile companies also have been planned. The exact sequence of events in this whole campaign has not yet been determined.

Lewis called the policy committee to meet here February 12 to formulate demands to be placed before the Appalachian soft coal producers February 17 in New York.

All soft coal wages are based upon those paid in the Appalachian region, reaching from central Pennsylvania to northern Tennessee. This region produces more than 60 per cent of the country's bituminous coal.

The miners now work 35 hours a week with a base pay rate of $5.30 a day in the north. The miners who actually dig coal are paid by the ton, but tonnage rates are correlated with the day rates.

The operators propose to lengthen the work week to 40 hours without changing the pay scale. This would mean less pay for miners paid by the hour, but more for the tonnage workers if they worked the full 40 hours.

The United Mine Workers, on the other hand, want to ask for a 30-hour week with as much or more pay than the miners now receive for 35 hours.

PRIVATE POWER COMPANY ENDS TVA CONTRACT
Refuses New Agreement In View Of U. S. Policy

Washington, Feb. 3.—(P)—The government's insistence upon freedom to compete with private power interests brought an end tonight to a three-year working agreement between the Tennessee Valley authority and the Commonwealth and Southern corporation.

Wendell L. Wilkie, president of the corporation, announced it would buy no more TVA power until the government promises not to build competing power lines.

He refused to accept terms laid down by TVA directors for a new contract to replace the one expiring tonight. Under the old contract Commonwealth and Southern bought about $500,000 of TVA power annually and received guarantees that the federal authority would not compete with it in certain territories.

TVA directors said after a conference with Wilkie yesterday they would not grant his company a monopoly on government power in the four states where it operates.

TVA offered a 30-day option on the old contract while a new one was being considered, but Wilkie announced at a press conference here today that he was letting the agreement lapse tonight.

He expressed hope that the government and his firm yet could reach an understanding. But he added that Commonwealth and Southern does not need federal power to supply its customers.

Wilkie said he was willing to negotiate on pooling, outright purchase by the government of private competitors, or a plan to wholesale government power to private companies for resale to consumers.

Strike Parley Is Held At Detroit; Will Meet Again
Detroit, Feb. 3.—(P)—A conference between leaders of opposing sides in the widespread automotive strike adjourned tonight after what Gov. Frank Murphy described as a "cordial and judicious" talk. The conferees will meet again at 9 a. m. (CST) tomorrow.

William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors corporation, said "not a thing" was settled. He was smiling when he left the room after four and a half hours' uninterrupted conferring with the governor and union representatives.

John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for industrial organization, of which the striking union—United Automobile Workers—is an affiliate, said any statement must come from the governor.

Homer Martin, UAWA president, declined comment when he departed a little earlier than Lewis.

The only others in the meeting, called by Gov. Murphy at the "wish of the president of the United States," were John Thomas Smith, General Motors counsel, and Federal Labor Conciliator James P. Dewey, who was summoned late in the day.

WILL ATTEND MEETING
Judge William E. Thomson, left last night for Chicago where he will attend the state convention of County and Probate Judges which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Sherman hotel.

CAIRO WORKERS WATCH FOR ANY BREAK IN DYKE

Only 'Emergency' Can Prevent Victory Over Waters

Ohio Virtually at a Stand, Inches Below Bulkhead

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 3.—(P)—Men wise to the ways of a river at flood watched the cresting Ohio course past Cairo tonight, alert and ready "for any emergency."

Because now an emergency out of hand could shift apparent victory to sudden and devastating defeat.

Swollen with its greatest flood, the Ohio was virtually at a stand, inches below the highest points of the bulkheaded 60-foot seawall. In places the water lapped at the three-foot barrier that surmounts the dike. Doubled forces were on patrol and there will be no retreating during the four or five days the river remains at crest.

The usual sluggish, quiet flow of a flooding river spread wide from its natural course does not apply here. Held to its channel by the gigantic seawall, the Ohio sweeps down a wide curve, pounds along the concrete dike in an 8-mile-an-hour current and pours into the Mississippi which flanks the city on another side.

An unguarded timber loose in that current, or a barge whip-lashing on its moorings, could batter the bulkhead and possibly tip a cap which would open the way for inundation just when the river battle appeared won.

It was knowledge of the threat in such an accident that brought Mayor August Bode's warning against "premature rejoicing." Emergency Supplies Supervisor Frank Carcher had the situation in mind today when he said: "We are well prepared for any emergency."

Only one of those preparations is the fifty railroad cars loaded with sandbags and spotted at strategic points along the levee system, steamed-up locomotives standing by. Within minutes they could be rushed to any danger spot.

It is principally a matter of watching on the Ohio seawall now and levee workers have shifted over to the dike that holds the Mississippi out of the city. That river now is about five feet below the top of its permanent dike.

"It is Cairo's back door," said a government engineer, "and since the front door has been properly guarded from the Ohio we are taking the precaution of closing the back door. We are not apprehensive."

State Legislature Receives New Bills; Votes Adjournment

Take Preliminary Steps On Action to Provide Flood Relief

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—(P)—With preliminary steps proposed for relief of southern Illinois flood victims and a mass of bills tossed into the legislative mill, the legislature today deferred further action and adjourned until next week. Both houses will hold perfunctory sessions tomorrow.

Awaiting action of the house when it reconvenes is a resolution by Senator Oral P. Tuttle, Harrisburg Republican, providing for a joint legislative committee to survey Ohio river flood damage. The resolution, which the senate adopted unanimously at the morning session, calls for three members from each house.

Speaker Louie E. Lewis is expected to announce the house committees when the lower chamber resumes its sessions.

The senate advanced to third reading, the passage stage, the measure by Sen. Harold G. Ward of Chicago to provide $45,000,000 for that city's schools through a "pegged levy." The bill was expected to be passed at Tuesday night's session.

No action was taken on the resolution by Sen. Louis O. Williams, Clinton Democrat, providing that legislators holding other public jobs should forfeit their seats in the assembly.

Twenty bills were introduced in the senate, including: Gunning—Creates state election commission, elected by popular vote. Monroe—Amends women's 10-hour law to make 8 1/2 hours except in hotels, restaurants and mercantile establishments. Exempts businesses subject to 30-day fluctuation periods on approval of the department of labor.

Clifford—Provides for monthly transfers from sales tax fund of one-twelfth of amount appropriated to University of Illinois.

Dixon and Keane—Creates municipal code commission of five members of each house and 10 mayors or city attorneys.

Gunning—Imagines use of stamps April 30, 1937, for sales tax collection.

Mass Demonstration Of Pickets Held; Strikers Ignore GMC Injunction

Flint, Mich., Feb. 3.—(AP)—City Manager John M. Barringer announced tonight, a few hours after a large mass picketing demonstration, that 500 Flint citizens would be sworn in overnight as special police to help preserve order.

He said the purpose of the augmented force would be to prevent large assembly of union groups in this General Motors strike center, but that there would be no interference with peaceful picketing. Barringer referred to the citizens being sworn in as "police reserves" and requested that they not be called "vigilantes."

He added that he did not expect them to be used tonight. "Sit down" strikers defying an injunction for a second time remained in two Fisher body plants as the city manager made his announcement.

They have held the plants since Dec. 30. A large crowd, in an apparently happy frame of mind, had remained outside the Fisher plant No. 1 since the afternoon demonstration.

Barringer reported that "violence" had been committed by members of the crowd and that it had "chased" Police Chief James V. Mills away. "We will no longer countenance roving bands of armed men who have taken the city into their possession," the city manager said. "We shall repossess Flint for the forces of law and order."

The city head said "there will be plenty of arms for all of the 'police reserves'" but that there were no uniforms available for them. He said there would be a number of world war veterans among them.

The police station was under a heavy guard tonight and the city commission held a closed meeting in the police chief's office. Its purpose was not divulged.

Barringer said 16 police cruisers each were filled with four "well-armed" officers and that the "police reserves" would not be called upon for duty unless they were needed, but that they would be held in readiness for an emergency.

The city manager said he visited the No. 1 plant, which is not in the area being patrolled by 1,200 National Guardsmen, and that he saw "violence." He did not elaborate. He added that one spectator reported being struck with a club on the arm when he refused to give an automobile ride to some union men.

Barringer asserted that "armed union men are cruising about the city in cars."

The crowd outside Fisher No. 1 was orderly and having a good time. It was directed by a union sound car to keep off of General Motors property.

Circuit Judge Paul V. Gadola, who issued the injunction yesterday, said the next move was up to General Motors corporation. Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott, upon whom would devolve the duty of removing the men from the plant, said he would attempt to evacuate the strikers only on a direct order from the court, and that "it is up to General Motors to ask for the order."

Counsel for General Motors took no apparent steps to set in motion the legal machinery for forcible removal after the 3 P. M. deadline fixed in the injunction had passed.

Two thousand persons, several hundred of them women, carrying clubs and wearing the berets and arm bands of the United Automobile Workers' "Emergency Brigade," engaged in a mass picketing demonstration at Fisher plant No. 1. They shouted encouragement to the "stay-in strikers." Several thousand spectators—estimated by some observers at 10,000—watched the demonstration.

Maj. George Ely, executive officer of the National Guard detachment stationed in Flint, said tonight that Sheriff Wolcott had asked him for troops at plant No. 1, that sound of officers communicated with Gov. Frank Murphy at Detroit and the governor refused the sheriff's request.

Sheriff Wolcott said he had asked for the troops as "a precautionary measure."

ZION STRIKERS AGREE TO TEMPORARY TRUCE

Zion, Ill., Feb. 3.—(P)—Sit down strikers at Zion Industries, Inc. agreed today to return to work until Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of the Apostolic Christian church here, returned home from Florida and an arbitration board could be established.

Voliva was reported enroute here and was expected tomorrow.

The strike at the religious colony's industrial plant started Sunday. The workers demanded they be permitted to join the Lake County Trades Council and affiliate themselves with the American Federation of Labor. Union membership, they said, would automatically increase their wages 10 per cent.

TO CHICAGO
Robert Sibert, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sibert left Wednesday morning for Chicago to enter Northwestern University School of Commerce. Robert and William Young, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Young who is attending Northwestern University Dental School will be located at the Montrose Beach Apts on Montrose Ave.

MAIN LEVEES OF MISSISSIPPI ARE WINNING BATTLE

Emergency Not Yet Over, But Victory Is Foreseen

Engineer Says Gauges Show Peak Has Arrived

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 3.—(P)—Main line levees of the Mississippi river held fast today against the full load of the Ohio's destructive flood.

From Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans dikes workers stiffened defenses against the swelling burden which rolled thru the billion dollar levee system thrown up for just such an emergency.

Even as they redoubled precautions to meet down-river crests, United States engineers said they foresaw victory in the greatest battle against disaster on the Mississippi.

"Patrols are active on all fronts and maintenance crews are busy checking any signs of danger as soon as it appears," Lieutenant Colonel Eugene Reybold, district engineer said.

A force of 120,000 workers continued to heighten and reinforce the levees that stand between the south's richest cotton lands and rampaging flood waters that left death and destitution in their wake in the Ohio valley.

"The action of the Cairo gauge," said Colonel Reybold, "gives almost positive evidence that peak water has arrived. From six p. m. until 10 p. m. last night the gauge hung at 59.54 feet. Then a gradual rise carried the gauge upward to 59.58. It remained stationary at that point from 1 a. m. until 8 a. m. today. At 10 a. m. it registered 59.59 feet. A further rise of one-tenth of a foot would not surprise observers."

Reybold said the gauge at Hickman, Ky., remained stationary at 51.31 feet since 8 o'clock last night. That was a fall of .03 since noon yesterday, but this was believed due to dike breaks at Bessie Landing, Tenn.

Two crevasses in the slough landing Neck Dike near Bessie landing. There are about a dozen small crevasses in the dike at that vicinity. The escaping water continued to flow almost straight across the narrow neck and into the Mississippi again.

Those breaks in the secondary dikes are expected to relieve pressure on New Madrid, Mo., at the tip of a horseshoe bend that starts near Bessie. At New Madrid the gauge registered 47.97 at 5 a. m., a rise of only .03 since noon yesterday.

Although considering it a remote possibility, engineers were ready to dynamite a section of the Tiptonville, Tenn.-Union City highway should that emergency arise to save Reelfoot lake from a break above.

The Mississippi rose to 47.18 feet on the weather bureau gauge here at 1 p. m., a rise of 4 feet in 24 hours. The crest is expected to reach Memphis about February 9 at 48 feet.

GARMENT WORKERS ON STRIKE IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Feb. 3.—(P)—Pickets surrounded the National Underwear Corporation's plant today as 300 young women employees went on strike, alleging a wage cut.

The walkout was complete, strikers alleged. Picketing was directed by the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union. Employees of the firm are unorganized.

Striking employees said they had been informed of a 50 per cent wage reduction yesterday. L. J. Rothbarth, president of the company, said the plant had shut down yesterday due to lack of work, and that he was unaware of a strike until he saw the pickets.

SHALLOW GRAVE
Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 3.—(P)—Romulo Salazar, Albuquerque detective, said today a skeleton found in the shallow grave 50 miles southeast of Socorro, N. M., apparently was that of a man who died three or four years ago.

The grave was in the general area where search was made for four Illinois tourists who disappeared almost two years ago.

HORNER REVEALS PLAN TO TIGHTEN PAROLE POLICIES

Abandon Secrecy On Release Of All Prisoners

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—(P)—The Horner administration moved today to tighten up its parole board regulations and announced that the policy of secrecy on the release of prisoners has been abandoned.

Chairman W. C. Jones issued a statement outlining changes that included:

1. The continuance of parole applications to a definite date, with a rehearing when it arrives, instead of automatically releasing prisoners to the division of supervision on the date of the "finals."

2. Release to the press of the names of prisoners whose cases are to be heard at the monthly hearings at the penal institutions, along with similar publicity when paroles are granted.

3. Withholding of parole orders until the board as well as the division of supervision has approved the applicant's proposed sponsor, employment and prospective home.

Jones said Governor Horner approved the new policies. They resulted from widespread criticism of the release of convicts and followed the replacement of George T. Scully of Chicago as superintendent of parole supervision. The supervision division is now headed by T. P. Sullivan of Springfield in a reorganization effort.

No paroles were granted during January, the chairman announced, because of the requirement for a more stringent investigation of sponsors, employers and homes.

Jones did not say when the first parole docket would be made public. In the last, except for letters to state's attorneys and complaining witnesses, the board's work was conducted in secrecy.

The new policy requires that the parole board, as well as Sullivan's office, concern itself with the future environment of prisoners who ask to be released on their good behavior.

The division of supervision will investigate the applicant's sponsor and proposed job and home, but the findings must be approved by the board members.

The Plight of Golconda

Golconda, Illinois, is one of the many towns in this state in the path of the flood. We have selected Golconda for a description of conditions because it is typical of the plight faced by scores of Illinois communities, now and after the flood recedes. Golconda is a county seat town of about 1,400 population. The entire city is under water with exception of a small school, and an A. M. E. church on the crest of a hill, which are being used as emergency hospitals.

There is no electricity, no drinking water, no food, no clothing, no sanitary facilities, nothing, in Golconda today. The only persons allowed to remain in the town are workers, militiamen and the sick and injured. Water, food and gasoline are taken into the town by boat. There is but a single telephone line in working order, being held for the militia for dispatch of orders, and a Coast Guard radio set.

Flood stage at Golconda is 40 feet. The gauge there shows 60 feet. Buildings damaged at flood stage are now under 20 feet of water. Many homes are entirely under water, the chimneys constituting a menace to navigation of workers' boats.

The community is stricken to a greater degree than if half its buildings had been swept by fire. Every business man, every home owner, faces problems of much labor and expense when the flood recedes. The town in reality will have to be rebuilt. It is a task that challenges the spirit not of a few persons, but of an entire community.

Citizens of Jacksonville and other fortunate Illinois cities may think they have crushing problems of their own; they may be disheartened when things go wrong at home—the furnace may break down and need repairs; the family car may develop unexpected weakness, resulting in a sizeable garage bill; it's not long until tax-paying time—there's always something to worry about, if one is inclined to worry.

But would you trade places with those people at Golconda?

Knox-Galesburg Centenary

The centenary celebration which begins the week end of February 14 and 15 in Galesburg, is almost unique among centennials. It is more than a college centennial. For the beginnings of the city and college are so closely interwoven that it is impossible to say which started first, and the close relationship has remained unbroken for a hundred years. Both Knox and Galesburg may be justly proud of the record.

The founders of Knox college came out from New York state primarily to found a college. But men building a college must live in houses, eat food, wear clothes—must, in other words, form a community. Galesburg and Knox college were, therefore, created simultaneously.

Galesburg today is a brisk and self-sufficient city in its own right, ready to contribute generously to the support of its college. Knox is equally proud of her community and the members of the faculty gladly serve as citizens of the town.

Birthday congratulations to the city and college would be incomplete if they did not include the other. The history of Galesburg and Knox are closely parallel with the history of Jacksonville and Illinois College. Both cities and colleges grew up together. Illinois College observed its 100th anniversary in 1929, a few years after the city centennial.

Tennessee Gets Busy

This column on Tuesday criticized the State of Tennessee for its failure by law to prevent child marriages. We are happy to find that Tennessee citizens have awakened to the situation, and are preparing to adopt legislation which will take care of the problem. Eunice Winstead will be the last nine year old bride in that state if bills now in the making are adopted by the Tennessee legislature.

One bill introduced by Senator Fletcher Morgan of Chattanooga would make 16 years the minimum age for marriage with violation of the statute of misdemeanor. Senator George H. Freeman of Petersburg introduced an alternate bill, setting 14 years as the minimum age and providing no penalty for violation other than annulment.

Governor Gordon Browning has led criticism against the marriage of the small, golden-haired child and her six foot mountaineer husband. "I think it is nothing short of tragedy for anything like that to happen," the governor declared.

With Tennessee citizens up in arms over the situation, the legislature should take speedy action to block other marriages, which rival child marriage customs of India and China.

Sun Spots and Floods

When history is recorded of the winter floods of 1936-37, it will tell a story of forecasts made as early as 1934.

Captain J. J. See, veteran mathematician and astronomer of the United States Navy, as early as May, 1934, predicted floods throughout the world from 1936 through 1938. In his prediction he said that rainfalls would increase following the drought of 1934, and would reach their height at the close of 1936.

Reports coming from the Naval Observatory at Washington deal with sun spots which have to do so much with rainfall. The Smithsonian Institution of Washington has made public its studies of solar radiation and its influence on weather and the fluctuation of lake levels.

Dr. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, says that "lake levels, like the growth of vegetation, the abundance of creatures that feed on vegetation and the width of tree rings vary in relation to the intensity of the sun's radiation, which in turn is closely related to variations in the activities of sun spots."

In other words, these sun spots had much to do with the culmination in the floods that are now prevailing in the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys. Science is making rapid strides and nowhere is it better evidenced than in these U. S. observations. Captain See, now retired, was at the Mare Island Naval base in California in 1934 when he entered upon the records of this forecast.

Rainfall will increase for the next two years, after which the floods will occur. Since the decrease of sun spots began in 1928, great droughts have been observed in nearly all countries. But the reappearance of large sun spots will bring vast floods in 1936 and 1938. By extensive research I proved that the eleven and one-half year flood cycle, when the sun spots are most rapidly increasing, is dependable and historically accurate.

Not only are we having floods in this country, but in Europe as well. They are seemingly world-wide.

Hit, Run and Be Sorry

With most persons an automobile accident is distressing enough, without additional worries. It's bad enough to put someone in the hospital, but much worse to know that you face a jail term for leaving the scene of an accident in violation of the law.

Yet there are a few drivers who, because of criminal instinct or fright, choose such a course when their cars become involved in mishaps. Jacksonville witnessed such an incident only the other night.

An automobile struck a bicycle upon which a girl was riding. The girl was hurled to the pavement, her bicycle broken. The girl might have been seriously injured or dying—the driver didn't know. Yet he stepped on the gas and fled from the scene.

Luckily, the child was not badly hurt. But the driver of that car, because of his rash reaction to the accident, today faces prosecution if apprehended.

We venture to say that the driver has spent some uneasy hours since that time. He knows he is wanted; he knows that he violated a law; he is aware of the fact that if his identity is learned his predicament will be much more severe than if he had stopped and rendered assistance.

If you have a wreck, take the safe and honorable course. Stop, do what you can, be a man about it. Don't make it tougher on yourself by trying to take a short-cut out of trouble. Such action would result only in regret.

CONSIGNMENT OF CLOTHING FOR FLOOD AREA

Clothing, one ton of it, is pictured above just before it was sent to flood territory by the Morgan county chapter of the Red Cross. This was the first shipment made to the flood area through the cooperation of the American Legion and the American Railway Express which donated its services toward getting supplies into the flood territory quickly. Clothing, and shoes, and even an oil stove are shown in the above picture. Men who assisted in packing the clothing shown above are Fred O'Daffer, Henry Rodgers, chairman of the Red Cross, Ira Allen, Charles Wallahan, Jesse Tribble, Tom Lonergan and Frank Taylor.

The Family Doctor

Many Infectious Diseases Believed Due to Invisible Substances

By DR. MORRIS FISHBURN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Most of the common infectious diseases are caused by germs which get into the body and then begin their action. The period that elapses between the time when the germ first enters and when the person begins to show disease symptoms is known as the incubation period.

This time varies with different diseases. In meningitis, it is from two to four days; in erysipelas, from one-half to three days; in measles, from 10 days to two weeks; in German measles, from five to 21 days; in scarlet fever, from several hours to a week; in smallpox, from 10 days to 25 days; in typhoid fever, from six to 25 days; in chickenpox, from four to 16 days. Few people really know what germs look like or how they invade the human body. Germs are so small that it takes 30,000,000,000 to weigh a pound. They multiply rapidly under favorable conditions.

One germ can produce two new ones in 20 minutes. If a germ produces two new ones every hour, it would have at the end of a day millions of descendants.

We recognize disease germs by their presence at the time of disease and their absence when the disease is not present. In contrast, we recognize vitamins by the disease that appears when the vitamins are absent. Germs are of many shapes and sizes; some are round, some rod-shaped, some spiral. Some have capsules made of wax or fat, and others have tails like fins. Germs are not a theory, because they can be seen under the microscope. In tubes, they can be seen to multiply so rapidly that a mass of them will appear in the tube where, the day before, nothing was visible.

When germs are injected into animals, they cause changes in the tissue and are found to be wide-spread throughout the animal's body, whereas only a small number had been placed under the creature's skin or into its blood vessel with the first injection.

Changes that take place are specific for each kind of germ. Typhoid germs are found in the intestines and cause ulcers there.

In meningitis, the germs get into the coverings of the spinal cord and brain. When the spinal fluid is examined, germs can be found in it. The germ can be grown artificially outside of the human body. If it is injected into an animal, it will produce symptoms like those in a human being, proving definitely that the germ is related to that disease.

Even when the germ cannot be seen under the most powerful microscope, we sometimes know that it, or a substance capable of producing the disease, is present, because an injection of the blood, or a transmission of some infected material from a person having a disease into the tissue of an animal will reproduce the condition.

Such invisible substances, many of them so small that they will pass through even the smallest of clay filters, are known as filtrable viruses. It is our belief that many of the infectious diseases for which the exact cause has not been determined are due to such substances.

Forestry, Wildlife Film to Be Shown At February Meet

CCC Camp to Sponsor Film at Soil Conservation Meet Feb. 10

Films showing what the Civilian Conservation Corps is doing to restore forests and wildlife in this and other sections of the nation will be shown here at a joint meeting of the Morgan County Soil Conservation Association and representatives of the county chapters of the Sportsman's clubs Feb. 10.

Capt. B. C. Taylor, of the local CCC camp, announced Wednesday that Joe Davidson, district forester, will be here Feb. 10 with the films and that arrangements have been completed to show the films at the Morgan county Farm Bureau Office.

Capt. Taylor stated that invitations were being issued to the soil conservation members and to representatives of the Jacksonville, Murrayville, Winchester and Alexander sportsmen's clubs. The number of persons who may attend the showing will be limited to 40 because of lack of space to seat additional spectators.

Birthdays of Two Great Americans to Be Program Subjects

Lincoln and Washington to Be Remembered by Many Groups

Local officials of Federated Women's clubs and patriotic organizations have received requests from Mrs. Edward J. Lehman, Sidney, Illinois, state president of women's clubs and Mrs. S. J. Campbell, of Mt. Carroll, state regent of the D.A.R., to observe the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday in their club programs this month. Many of the societies have made plans for special programs, some in connection with the celebration of Washington's birthday on the twenty-second, however, it is the desire that both events be noted on the club schedules in some appropriate manner. The Parent-Teacher associations are also asked to feature the historical significance of these lives upon the present day in the state and nation.

This year marks the 128th anniversary of Lincoln's birth in a rude log cabin near Hodgenville, Ky. It was 44 years after the death of Lincoln that the nation began to make his birthday an outstanding patriotic event of the year. February 12, 1909, the Centennial of his birth was celebrated and the custom has continued.

Each year brings new information concerning his life. Recently interesting observations have been quoted from foreign comments made during the life of Lincoln, from the German people, who held him in the highest esteem and the French nation along with many others, whose statesmen expressed themselves as considering Lincoln one of the world's greatest leaders. Many efforts by historical and patriotic societies have established data and valuable records for the state and nation. In this state two memorials especially stand out. "Old New Salem" in its restoration brings out the personalities and their story influence in the life of the state. The D.A.R. monument to Lincoln erected near the old road to Lawrenceville, Ind., U. S. Route 50, marking the site, where the boy Lincoln and his family entered Illinois, will be featured by pilgrimages this year from groups, schools and private citizens, is another.

Shamrock is grown abundantly in the United States. It is not an exclusive Irish product.

Two WPA Projects Are Approved for This Community

Will Begin Highway Clearance Project Now; Sewer Job Engineering Needed

Two Works Progress Administration projects have been approved by the state and national offices of the organization, O. P. Wilts, county supervisor, said yesterday. Work on one of the projects will begin immediately, and the other will begin as soon as details are worked out with the city administration.

The projects, the first to be awarded locally recently, will provide employment for as many as 70 men on one and 20 men on the other, Mr. Wilts said. He had hoped to have another project approved for immediate employment of men.

The project on which work will start immediately is to be known as a roads and right-of-way clearance project. The project will begin with about 25 men, Mr. Wilts said, and if the territory to be covered provides more men, the project may employ as high as 70 men.

The second project, involves preparing the Goltz avenue sewer. Some of the details of this project remain to be worked out with the city engineer, and work will not begin until these details are completed. Approximately 20 men will be employed on this project.

Another project, which has been submitted but on which no word of action has been received here, involves the construction and repair of bridges in the county.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain! to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. See.

Red Cross Collects $4,100 for Relief; Receive Late Report

All Funds Collected Locally for Relief Sent to the National Agency

With a total of $4,100 raised locally for relief of persons caught in the Ohio river valley flood territory, the local chapter of the Red Cross announced yesterday that all of the funds raised for the flood victims are being sent to national headquarters, and that none of it is kept here to conduct the affairs of the local office.

A late report from the state headquarters shows that there are approximately 8,000 Illinois persons concentrated in two relief camps at Anna, and that these camps now have been sufficiently supplied with clothing, bedding, and food for the present.

Each of the Red Cross camps at Anna is manned by five doctors and twenty-five nurses in charge of the health operations in the camp, and each maintains two hospitals, one for new cases and the other for convalescent cases. All of the refugees in these camps are living in tents, but will be returned to their homes as soon as the flood waters subside and conditions are safe for their return.

The local chapter also received the following report from the national headquarters:

The president's Flood Relief committee, including James L. Fieser, vice chairman of the Red Cross, met in Memphis, Tenn., Monday morning. The committee proceeded from Memphis in the afternoon into the flooded areas in Arkansas and is now en route to the Missouri area and will be at Cairo Wednesday morning, Feb. 3.

A careful check of reports at national headquarters yesterday shows some decrease in the total number of persons being cared for in concentration camps and otherwise in the flood zones, but shows an increase of 109,000 persons who have been driven from their homes by flood water. The summary report on February 1 shows 932,109 persons are affected and that 774,612 persons have been forced to leave their homes. The Red Cross has 49 concentration camps in operation, 126 field hospitals, and 1300 nurses working in the disaster territory.

Acting with federal and state authorities, the Red Cross has undertaken the movement of refugees from key concentration camps to smaller centers to prevent crowding. This move will spread refugees over a greater area and minimize the threat of sickness always present when large numbers of people are thrown together.

The warehouse centers to clear food and supplies to concentration points have been established by the Red Cross at Columbus and Cincinnati, O., Nashville and Knoxville, Tenn., Indianapolis, Ind., and St. Louis, Mo.

A survey to insure an adequate supply at all camps of nurses and doctors is under way. Officials state the majority of these points are so covered at the present time, Red Cross field hospitals having been set up at refugee centers and also in flooded cities and towns.

The above letter was received from Wm. M. Baxter, Jr., manager, Midwestern Branch, National Red Cross headquarters, St. Louis, Mo., yesterday by H. J. Rodgers, chairman, Morgan county Red Cross chapter.

Latest reports show the territory affected in the flood disaster extending from Parkersburg, Va., on the Ohio to Memphis, Tenn., and beyond, and a complete network of Red Cross organizations for relief is functioning throughout this territory.

Money to carry on the affairs of the local office, such as postage, long distance calls, and other incidental expenses, comes from the fund raised during the annual roll call.

Favorites Come Through First Round Of Greene Tournament

Scores Last Night. Roodhouse 41; Eldred 22. Greenfield 24; Patterson 21. White Hall 44; Eldred 21.

7:30 p. m.—Roodhouse vs. Rockbridge. 8:30 p. m.—Hillview vs. Carrollton.

Carrollton.—Favorites came through the opening rounds of the Greene county tournament here Wednesday night when White Hall and Roodhouse overpowered their rivals, and Greenfield eked a narrow victory over Patterson's ball-hawks in a nip and tuck fray.

Two games are on the Thursday night card, bringing Roodhouse up against Rockbridge in the first game, and Hillview against Carrollton in the second tilt.

Roodhouse was a bit shaky at the start, but the defending champions pulled away to an 11-5 lead at the end of the first quarter, and held a 20 to 10 lead at the end of the half. Duty, husky Roodhouse forward, had a field day, pitching in 23 points to take the scoring honors of the opening.

Greenfield trailed Patterson through the first three periods, and then closed with a rally to win the decision. Patterson pitched in long shots to take an 8-4 lead at the end of the first quarter, and was still out in front 12 to 9 at the end of the first half. Greenfield tied the count through a hard fought but slow scoring third quarter 13-13, and then forged out in front.

White Hall set up a fast pace to defeat Eldred, using their height to run up a 21-7 lead at the end of the first half. Reserves played through the last period.

PRESSStocks Make Gains,
Some to New Highs

New York, Feb. 3.—(P)—Stocks again lunged forward in today's market, many planting their banners in new high territory for the past 6 years or longer with general gains of fractions to around 3 points.

The list had the benefit of a little further revival of hope concerning earnings powers of heavy industry corporations. But there were still doubters and a sizeable assortment of losers was in evidence at the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up 4 of a point at 73.1, its fifth successive advance. It was the high point for this barometer since April 20, 1931. Transfers totaled 2,451,570 shares compared with 2,429,500 yesterday.

Wall Street's eyes were centered on Michigan where opposing forces in the General Motors strike were induced to meet in an effort to arrange a formal conference for settlement of this conflict.

Wheat Prices Show
Effects of Buying

Chicago, Feb. 3.—(P)—Skyrocketing prices showed the effects of a big outburst of European buying both of wheat and of corn.

Germany was stated to have purchased 1,468,000 bushels of Argentine wheat and 2,400,000 bushels of Argentine corn, with other European countries also buyers from Argentina. In addition, fully 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was estimated to have been bought for export.

From the outset, indications that all shippers of wheat had assumed a more aggressive position relative to asking prices did much to hoist values here. Leading traders said this change of world market background had brought about improved support concerning wheat, and that unfavorable crop developments could be expected to furnish additional incentive.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 21-31 cents above yesterday's finish, May 1937-1, July 1937-1, Sept. 1937-1, corn 11-11 1/2, up, May 1937-1, July 1937-1, Sept. 1937-1, oats 1-1 1/2 advanced, May 1937-1, and rye showing 11-11 1/2 bulge, May 1937-1. In provisions, the outcome was 5 to 32 cents gain.

Size of Eggs Depends
On Heredity of Hens

Hereditary and not diet determines the size and quality of hens' eggs, Berley Winton, government poultry expert, told the fact-finding conference of the Institute of American Poultry Industries Tuesday at Chicago.

Tests conducted by the Federal Department of Agriculture showed that a variation of feeds given to hens had no effect on the quality of eggs they produced, Winton reported.

The Institute re-elected Frank L. Stockard, of Chicago as president; W. T. S. White, Boston, chairman of the executive committee and W. B. Loucks, New York City and John Davis, Quincy, Ill., as vice-presidents.

Photograph Jersey Food Patches

Photographs of food patches planted on the Clifford Jewsbury farm south-east of Jerseyville were taken this week by W. J. Sagovetz, assistant forester at Plasa Erosion camp, and representatives of Western Cartridge Company of Alton.

The patches at the Jewsbury farm are considered the best produced in the past summer of drought.

The pictures were taken with the heavy snow on the locality, to demonstrate the types of plants standing above the snow level. With the melting of the snow in the locality, another group of pictures will be shot of the same patches.

Two Chemists Join Staff Of Soybean Laboratory

Wallace B. Van Arsdal and Dr. George H. Brothier have been appointed to head the Meal and Development sections, respectively, of the Regional Soybean Industrial Products Laboratory, which has been established at Urbana, by the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Act of 1935.

Mr. Van Arsdal received his chemical engineering degree from Purdue University. He has been engaged in research and development work for the Brown company of Berlin, New Hampshire, since August, 1934. His new duties will be to keep in touch with the soybean industry as a whole and to direct development and pilot plant work.

Dr. Brothier received his B. S. in chemistry from the University of Nebraska and his Ph.D. from the University of Toronto. About ten years ago he was responsible for the development of a new casein plastic, and has worked for several industrial concerns. He is the author of the chapter on "Casein Plastics" in the volume "Casein and Its Industrial Applications," of the Sutermeister ACS monograph series.

Dr. Brothier's duties as head of the Meal section of the Regional Soybean Industrial Products Laboratory will be to study the industrial utilization of soybean meal in the manufacture of adhesives, plastics, synthetic fibers, etc. This will involve a thorough fundamental study of the proteins of soybean meal, as well as their application for industrial purposes.

Hog, Lamb Prices
Continue Advances

Chicago, Feb. 3.—(P)—Hog and lamb prices continued to advance today when receipts failed to expand, but cattle values showed little change, this branch of the trade being under the pressure of a sluggish dressed meat movement.

Hogs closed unchanged to 10 cents higher, the top rising 5 cents to $10.45.

Fat lambs gained 10 to 15 cents, with sheep up mostly 25 cents. The lamb top rose to $10.60.

Best steers were unchanged, but others tended lower, although price losses were slight. The supply of highly finished cattle was moderate considering reduced shipper outlet, only a few selling above $14. Some long yearlings topped at $14.50, matching the 12-months peak established last week.

Receipts at 20 principal markets have fallen off sharply so far this week largely because of the price cuts in livestock last week, traders said. The cattle run is approximately 25 percent smaller, hogs 44 percent less and sheep 32 percent less.

The DOCTOR says:

Beware of BURNS

The tiniest burn may develop horrible infections if not carefully attended to. For opened and burned skin tissues provide an easy access to bacteria. Every minor burn should be immediately treated with a safe, sure antiseptic cure. Be sure to have something for cuts and burns in your medicine cabinets at all times.

And when injuries are more serious, call a physician without a moment's hesitation. It will save much suffering and expense later. If the doctor gives you a prescription, be sure to have it handled with perfect accuracy—it's your protection to bring it here.

THE name "albino" comes from the Latin, Albus, meaning white, but not all white animals are albinos. In a true albino, pigment, which normally develops in the tissues, is lacking. Not only is it lacking in the skin, but in the deeper tissues as well. Pink eyes in albinos are the result of red blood vessels showing through.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT
CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE
By Dennis Wheatley
© 1937 N.E.A. Service, Inc.
William Morrow & Co.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BOLITHO BLANE, British financier, disappears from yacht owned by his principal competitor, CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE, off Miami, addressed to his secretary NICHOLAS STODART, indicates suicide since he faced bankruptcy. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, ARCTIC STOPS, closing at a new low that day.

Other passengers aboard the yacht, GOLDEN GILL, are MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE, Rocksausage's daughter; LADY WELTER; REGINALD JOCELYN, MISS JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law; the BISHOP OF RUDE; COUNT LUGI POSODINI, and IVOSUKE HAYASHI. Detective Officer KETTERING, boarding yacht at Miami, finds strange marks on Blane's cabin carpet and blood on curtain. Upon examination, Rocksausage admits inviting Blane aboard to effect amalgamation of their companies. Cabin steward and ship's carpenter fill in next with routine details.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VI
DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE.
K: Good morning, Miss Rocksausage. Come right in.
F.R.: Good morning.
K: Come and sit down. There are just a few questions I want to ask you about this unfortunate business last night.
F.R.: Certainly; anything I can do . . .
K: Would you just tell me, Miss Rocksausage, what you were doing, and where you were, from the time the yacht sailed until you went to dinner.
F.R.: When the ship left Miami I was sitting on the port deck with Mr. Jocelyn.
K: Did you see Mr. Blane come aboard?
F.R.: No. We were on the port side of the ship; that is, we were facing out to sea. We sat there until about 7:15, and then we both went below to our cabins. I got interested in a book, so I was a little late in changing and I didn't get up to the lounge until about 8:40. The other guests were all there, except Mr. Bolitho Blane and his secretary, neither of whom I had met, and I was just looking round for my father when the steward came up with a message from him. He said to me, "Mr. Rocksausage says, Miss, would you please take everybody in to dinner. Mr. Blane has had a heart attack, so we are returning to Miami."

K: And what happened then?
F.R.: I did as my father had asked me to and I didn't know anything about what really happened until father told us all after we had anchored off Miami again. Just a few minutes before the police came on board.
K: Did you know of any special reason for this trip?
F.R.: No.
K: Are you certain of that?
F.R.: Well, it's just a pleasure trip, like lots of others we've had on the yacht, but as there were several strangers on board I naturally assumed that some big business deal would be discussed during the time we were at sea. Father often uses these trips to entertain people with whom, if he were seen ashore, comment might be aroused which would affect the markets.
K: I see. Thank you, Miss Rocksausage. That'll be all for the moment.
DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF THE HONORABLE REGINALD JOCELYN.
K: Good morning, Mr. Jocelyn.
J: Now, I'd just like you to tell me anything you can about this unfortunate affair last night.
J: I'm afraid I can't tell you anything.
K: Well, let's hear what you were doing between the time of the ship's sailing and your going in to dinner.
J: When the ship sailed I was sitting on deck with Miss Rocksausage. We stayed there until the ship was well out to sea and somewhere about 7:30 we went down to our cabins to change for dinner. I came up to the lounge at 8:30 and Mr. Rocksausage arrived soon after. A steward spoke to him and he went below, then a message came up that Mr. Blane was ill, so we were returning to Miami. After that we went in to dinner.
K: Do you always take an hour to change your clothes?
J: Sometimes an hour, and sometimes two if I feel like it.
K: No need to get fresh now. Were you changing all that time?
J: I don't see what the devil it's got to do with you but, if you must know, I spent a long time lying in my bath.
K: Thanks. Now, this trip. You were in on the object of it, weren't you?
J: I don't understand what you mean.
K: Oh, yes you do. Bolitho Blane and Carlton Rocksausage were using this as a meeting ground to patch up a truce in the commercial war they've been waging.
J: Oh; that. Yes.
K: That, yes! And how much more did you know about it?
J: Nothing, except that Lady Welter, my mother-in-law, has very large holdings in the Rocksausage companies, and that she always likes me to stand by so that I can advise her where her business interests are concerned.
K: Right. That'll do for the moment, Mr. Jocelyn.
DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF THE HONORABLE MRS. REGINALD JOCELYN.
K: Good morning, Mrs. Jocelyn.
J: Sit down, won't you?
K: Thank you.
K: Now, just what can you tell me about this unfortunate affair last night?
J: Nothing at all. I'm afraid.
K: It would help me to check up on things if you wouldn't mind giving me your movements from the time the ship sailed until you went in to dinner.

History of Big Eli Wheels Related By Officer of Company

Ben Roodhouse in Talk to Lions Describes First Years of Industry

An interesting story of how the late W. E. Sullivan conceived the idea of building portable Ferris wheels, resulting in establishment of the Big Eli factory, one of Jacksonville's major industries, was related last night at a meeting of the Lions' club by Ben O. Roodhouse, sales manager of the company.

Mr. Sullivan, inventor of the Ferris wheel and founder of the manufacturing company, spent many hours in studying the huge Ferris wheel that was one of the attractions at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893.

Then a young mechanic, Mr. Sullivan formed an opinion that wheels could be built and taken to the people, rather than the people going to a place where a wheel was located.

Some idea of the magnitude of the Ferris wheel at the Chicago fair was given by Mr. Roodhouse, who stated that it was 264 feet high, its condolas having a capacity of 1,080 passengers. The wheel was propelled by a 500-horse power steam engine. It's axle of forged steel was 33 inches in diameter and 45 feet long.

Despite the general belief that this was the original Ferris wheel, Mr. Roodhouse told the Lions that several preceded it as early as 1868. The Ferris wheel was invented by George Washington Gale Ferris of Galesburg, Ill.

Equipped with many ideas on how to construct a smaller and portable wheel, W. E. Sullivan returned from the Chicago fair and built his first riding device in Jacksonville in 1900. In cooperation with the late James Clements, the first wheel was operated on the east side of the square, and later taken to Beardstown.

Between 1900 and 1905 Mr. Sullivan built four wheels, in the meanwhile locating his factory at Roodhouse in a 30 by 60 frame building. In subsequent years 17 additions were built to the original plant.

Realizing that larger quarters were necessary for the growing business, Mr. Sullivan and his associates moved the business to the city in 1919, erecting a factory near the Wabash railroad.

For a number of years the factory turned out 40 Big Eli wheels each year, but in 1929 the market slumped. During the depression years the company was enabled to keep its factory open by entering other lines of manufacture.

Business today is on the upgrade, Mr. Roodhouse declared. Considerable improvement was noted during 1936, and the outlook for 1937 is highly encouraging.

Mr. Roodhouse paid tribute to the amusement business, with which the Big Eli factory deals almost entirely. There is no finer or more honest class of people than those engaged in the amusement field, he said.

The sales manager also commended the policy of the company as laid down by Mr. Sullivan. Last year 66 percent of the company's business was with former customers.

Many persons have expressed curiosity about the cost of Big Eli wheels, Mr. Roodhouse said. He quoted the prices of four models to the Lions, which range from the baby type at $1,250 to the largest or park size at $5,778.

During the Lions' dinner program at the Peacock Inn the clubmen were entertained with a song by the Dixon trio, composed of Hamblin and Junior Dixon and John Wallace.

Over 250 boys in Jacksonville, twelve years of age and over, who now are not Scouts have expressed an intense desire to become Boy Scouts and to participate in the interesting gripping program of Scouting.
